Set Up: You can start setting up at 7 am on the Caldwell St. side of the building. Pull your vehicle up to your space to unload, pull out onto Main St. then park in the lot across the street. There is a ramp in the rear of the building if you are setting up inside.

Break Down: You are required to stay until 4 pm. The Rock Hill Studio and Gallery will be open until 5pm. The Come See Me Festival brings a lot of people to the downtown area and there will continue to be traffic after the show. You are welcome to stay later.

This event is held rain or shine.

Money: Each vendor is responsible for paying S.C. tax(7%). There are two banks with ATMs within walking distance.

Facilities: The Gettys Art Center has public restrooms. There are eight restaurants within a three block radius. The Rock Hill Pottery Studio and Gallery will provide refreshments in the morning for vendors.

We are pleased to present this festival and look forward to showcasing local artists. Our first Come See Me Pottery Festival was more successful than we could have imagined and with the addition of local crafters, we expect this year's to be even better.

We are just one of many events taking place during this week long Come See Me Festival in the city of Rock Hill, South Carolina. It is well attended by people from all over and is rated as one of the best festivals in the southeast. We will be publicized on the Come See Me Festival website, in their calendar of events, York County Magazine, The Herald, CN2 and WRHI.

We hope to see you there,
