

Do you work with children and/or families?

OR

Are you considering a career with children and/or families?

If so, the Family Development Credential is for you!

Long Beach City College is offering the Family Development Credential program. This prestigious credential can be yours with the completion of six units in family development (CDF 210A & CDF 210B).

- Learn new skills and strategies to work with children & families
- Earn college credit in child development
- Earn a nationally recognized Family Development Credential from the University of Connecticut (without leaving Long Beach)

Family Development utilizes a human services model that builds upon family strengths. This highly interactive class will assist you in both your profession and personal life. Topics include: family empowerment, communication skills, cultural sensitivity, stress reduction, and goal setting.

Don't wait....enroll NOW for CDF 210A offered during Fall 2010.
CDF 210B will be offered during Spring 2011.

Fall 210A classes will be held:

Saturdays 8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. for 6 weeks

October 2 - November 6, 2010

LAC campus T1317 (Beautiful NEW classroom on SW corner of Clark and Carson)

Contact Luanne Mauro-Atkinson at (949) 874-6356 or Lmauroatkinson@aol.com for additional information