REPORT LAUNCH

EDUCATION IN INDIA: SECURING THE DEMOGRAPHIC DIVIDEND

The Indian economy has been witnessing phenomenal growth over the last decade and the country is now poised to be a preferred destination for companies looking to expand their international capabilities.

The education and skills sector in India offers significant investment and partnership opportunities in most areas: in schools, at the further and higher levels and in the provision of vocational skills. The need to develop the sector in India has been acknowledged at the highest level of government and there are ambitious targets in place.

The UK India Business Council, Grant Thornton UK LLP and Grant Thornton India have collaborated to present a report to explain both the opportunities and challenges facing UK educational institutions and investors considering expanding into India, as well as the regulatory aspects they will need to consider.

Please join us on TUESDAY, 23 MARCH 2010 for the launch of this report, as well presentations from both education and advisor experts in this field.
