

Jared Smith
CEO, Talent Evolution

Jared Smith is an executive level insider with an entrepreneurial eye. Smith is co-founder of Talent Evolution, a company that builds personal and business brands for job seekers and business owners by harnessing the power of social media and social networking. As CEO at Talent Evolution, Smith focuses on developing and expanding services that help small businesses establish a healthy and competitive presence in the social media and networking realms.

He engages audiences by sharing information on emerging trends, new technologies, and strategies to grow their business utilizing social media and social networking tools.