

CONNECTICUT TEA PARTY PATRIOTS

SIGNS, SIGNS, SIGNS! THERE IS NO END TO THE CREATIVITY OF THE TEA PARTY PATRIOTS!

Its been a busy year for Tea Party Patriots

What a year it's been! Since February 2009, the tea party movement has taken off in a way nobody expected. In Connecticut, the Tea Party Patriots and coalition partners are shaping up to be a powerful political force. In March, Ridgefield held a tea party that attracted 400 people and front page coverage on Michele Malkin's blog. In April over 8000 people gathered all across Connecticut in our first state wide Tax Day Tea Party. Since then, we have held dozens and dozens of rallies all over the state. In 13 towns, a tea party is held every single week. Our weekly mini-teas served as a model for other states around the country. Now we are moving into the candidate business for 2010. Stay tuned for updates, rallies, meet & greets, and much more! Onward and upward!

PATRIOTS GATHERING

TAX DAY ON LONG WHARF

What the CT Tea Party Patriots have been up to:

Aside from protesting, and trips down to Washington DC to try and keep our legislators in line, the Connecticut Tea Party Patriots have been busy getting out information on Cap & Trade and Healthcare legislation. We also joined the entire country in confronting our representatives at town halls in August. Along with other tea party groups all across the country, we successfully pressed the Senate and stopped Cap & Trade. We have been working non stop since July to stop a government take over of healthcare. The so-called "public option" is on its last legs, and we will not stop calling, faxing, emailing, protesting until the federal government stops this insanity.

INDIVIDUAL LIBERTY.
PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY.
LIMITED GOVERNMENT.
FISCAL DISCIPLINE.

What we are doing now:

The Connecticut Tea Party Patriots are not content to stand on a sidewalk and protest. While we continue to believe that rallies and protests are critical for awareness and information dissemination, we are turning this movement into a powerful political force in this state. We are looking for candidates to help, ones that believe in fiscal responsibility, individual liberty and limited government.
