“GNSS – the key to autonomy?” – this will be the theme of the 2018 edition of the Munich Satellite Navigation Summit, taking place on March 5 - 7, 2018 at the Alte Bayerische Staatsbank in the heart of Munich. The organizing Institute of Space Technology and Space Applications (ISTA) of the Universitaet der Bundeswehr Muenchen will invite experts from all over the world to talk about the latest news on Positioning, Navigation, and Timing and their role for future autonomy.

The conference starts on March 5, 2018 with the Exhibition Opening and Champagne Reception at 16:30 hrs, followed by the Opening Plenary Panel at 17:15 hrs. Afterwards a reception is giving opportunities for high-level networking with experts from industry, science and government.

SELECTED TOPICS of the 2018 edition

- Status and real-world results of the European Galileo System
- Modernization of the US GPS, of the Russian GLONASS and the Chinese BeiDou
- Developments of regional systems like the Japanese QZSS and the Indian NavIC
- Autonomy within a single GNSS: still possible for a user?
- Authentication for GNSS: a real need for new applications?
- Civil use of the Galileo public regulated service
- Legal aspects on selected topics in the field of GNSS
- Multi-GNSS and precise point positioning: a game changer for autonomous driving?
- UAVs and GNSS: applications and safety issues
- GNSS companies sans frontière: linking European expertise and extra-EU needs

…and many more up-to-date topics on GNSS!
