Introducing PREP Hospital Medicine the newest addition to our family of subspecialty online self-assessments. Written by experts and based on the most current evidence based literature and guidelines, PREP Hospital Medicine will help you prepare for the subspecialty hospital medicine board examination with practical case studies and suggested readings for further review.

With a subscription to the 2018 self-assessment, you will get tips on recognizing and managing a wide range of in-patient cases such as:

- when to obtain instead of get a cerebrospinal fluid specimen in a seizing child
- how to check placement of an intraosseous catheter
- how to determine the best options for patient transport
- how to identify hyperthyroidism in a neonate
- when to consult a pediatric endocrinologist, an infectious diseases specialist or a surgeon
- how to implement strategies to avoid diagnostic errors

Customize your experience and learn at your own pace; easy to use on your smartphone or tablet. PREP Pearls summarize the practice takeaways you’ll want to recall and Ponder Points highlight concepts for consideration and implementation at your institution.

An annual subscription to the 2018 PREP Hospital Medicine includes 30 questions per quarter, 120 questions and 26 MOC Part 2 points per year. Access begins January 2018.
