PACE Honors Academics

Christine Pope is a graduating senior receiving a Bachelor of Business Administration in Marketing and International Business. She will graduate as a Darwin T. Turner Scholar, University Honors Scholar, and a Marvin P. Kolodzik Business Scholar.

Christine believes that exceeding expectations and taking advantage of every educational opportunity can take anyone anywhere, and it is this belief that has motivated her to excel inside and outside of the classroom for the past four years. Every semester she has made the dean’s list and maintained a 4.0 GPA. She is still in her last semester, but hopefully will be able to say on April 30, 2016 that she maintained these academic achievements throughout her entire collegiate career. She also has been a member of and served on the executive board of many organizations including Business Fellows, Lindner Ambassadors, Colleges Against Cancer, and Lindner Student Action Team (now known as Lindner Student Association). In addition, Christine has made time to give back to her Cincinnati community, volunteering with the Bearcat Buddies Tutoring Program, Junior Achievement, and the Make-A-Wish Foundation—Southern Ohio Region. She has even expanded her experience to the global arena by studying abroad three times, one of which was a semester in Spain, and traveling to 10 countries in three years.

Christine has completed two professional experiences to-date, one with Colgate-Palmolive in Schaumburg, Illinois and one with Procter and Gamble in Cincinnati, Ohio. She will begin her career with P&G in July 2016 in the Consumer Market Knowledge division, most likely in the Baby, Family, and Feminine sector.
