Bryson Min is a 2015 graduate of St. Edward High School in Lakewood, OH. He is a first year student pursuing a Bachelor of Science in industrial management with a minor in Spanish. As a proven scholar, Bryson is a member of the Circle of Excellence business honors program and the University Honors program. He is a member of the Business Fellows community service committee and is a crew leader for Clean-up Cincy, a program aimed at cleaning up and revitalizing UC’s surrounding neighborhoods. He strives to become a Logistics Director for the organization as well.

Bryson has many collegiate aspirations, he hopes to ascend to a leadership role within Chi Omega Epsilon, a student organization based around the Circle of Excellence business honors program; and he looks forward to seeing Out in Business – a group that raises awareness for the LGBTQ community within the business world – be successful as it was launched this year. Being able to watch these organizations grow – while being on the leadership teams – would be incredible for Bryson, given his grassroots contributions. Bryson also aspires to be involved in student government, with the specific goal to become Student Body President of the University of Cincinnati by the time he graduates. Bryson has always had a vested interest in politics and sees UC as a great place to start.
