VARIETY IS THE SPICE OF LIFE...

The Central West region of NSW is renowned for its excellent agricultural produce due to its varied landscapes and climate.

The region covers an area of 63,000 square kilometres, that starts at the temperate, elevated Central Tablelands on the western side of the Blue Mountains. This stretches for almost 500km to the semi-arid Central West Plains and is home to more than 177,000 people. The Central West region has a diverse agriculture sector with crops, fruits and livestock.

Significant broadacre crops in the region include wheat, barley, oats, canola, sorghum, maize, lupins and triticale.

Types of livestock the area is renowned for are dairy cattle, cattle and prime lambs.

The Central West region of NSW is home to several stock agents that operate out of the many livestock selling centres including Cowra Regional Livestock Selling Centre, Forbes Central West Livestock Exchange and the Central Tablelands Livestock Exchange in Carcoar.

Stock agents are an important part of the agricultural community as they advise and assist clients with many business transactions including, obtaining livestock, wool, equipment, merchandise and conducting clearing sales.

This region of NSW is well known for its strong lamb and cattle markets with weekly sales being held at the regional livestock selling centres. The local stock agents can advise you on current market trends and prices and how to best market your livestock for maximum return.

There are many authorised dealers in the Central West of NSW that stock leading brands for new and used farm machinery and equipment. All dealers offer competitive prices and offer advice to how best help to minimise your manual workload and maximise production. The dealers are all dedicated to excellence and have a keen eye for innovation to ensure they exceed customer expectations.

The four seasons require different farming practices depending on what type of farming operation is being run. This could be anything from sowing to spraying and harvesting. Along with supplying machinery and equipment these businesses also conduct repairs and provide maintenance and parts to ensure minimum downtime.

LIVESTOCK

MOO, BAA, OINK...

The Central West livestock industry is very diverse and is known for its high quality. The livestock industry ranges from cattle, sheep, wool, dairy, eggs, goats, pigs and much more.

The Central West region is specifically known for its quality of prime lambs due to ideal pastures and genetics. The wool industry is also going from strength to strength with local services providing growers with an accessible wool handling facility that utilises different marketing methods.

Farmers in the area have also been utilising mixed farming practices with rotational crops and grazing. This allows farmers to better manage cash flow and enables producers to take advantage of the climate conditions and market suitability of both crops and livestock.

Modern, innovative and efficient wool handling and marketing

- Selling in every auction sale week
- Leading wooltrade broker
- Forward contract with Riemann
- Offering Auctions Plus wool
- Accredited & modern rehandle
- Cash settlement on small lots
- Merchandise
- Shearing finance
- Web access to client account
- One competitive flat rate for all bales
- Comprehensive market reporting
- Detailed clip analysis

Since taking over our family farm I have been using Jemalong wool exclusively to market our annual woolclip. Using a combination of the traditional auction system and the internet based Wool Trade™ we have been able to take advantage of any upward movements of wool prices. This is due to personalised attention to detail and flexibility due mainly to Jemalong understanding our needs as a business.
