Now in its 12th year of production, this free bulletin is emailed to subscribers at the start of every month.

CAPRICORN FULL MOON

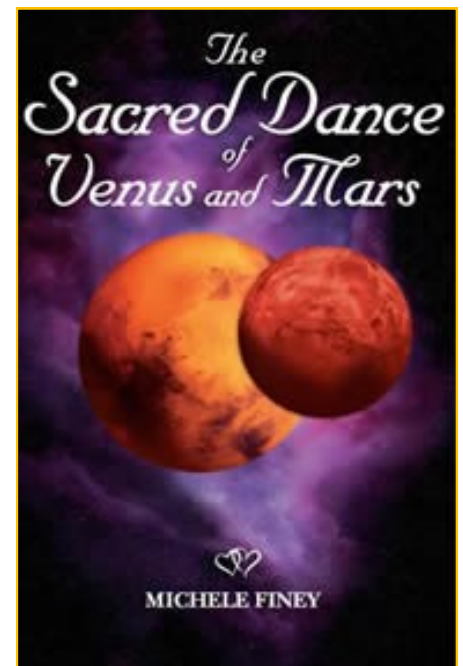

It's been a year full of dramatic stellar events and this month is no exception. In many ways the lunations this month are a culmination of the winding road we've been travelling. At what destination will we arrive? Next month is eclipse season, a time of endings and beginnings, so this month is a prelude to that significant turning point in the road.

This Full Moon sees the Moon and Pluto in Capricorn stirring a brew of potent emotional forces. These deep and mostly unconscious feelings are in opposition to the direct action of the Sun and Mars in water sign Cancer.

Powerful unconscious material is being purged at this Full Moon. This is a determined and self-defensive Full Moon, passionate, but also cautious.

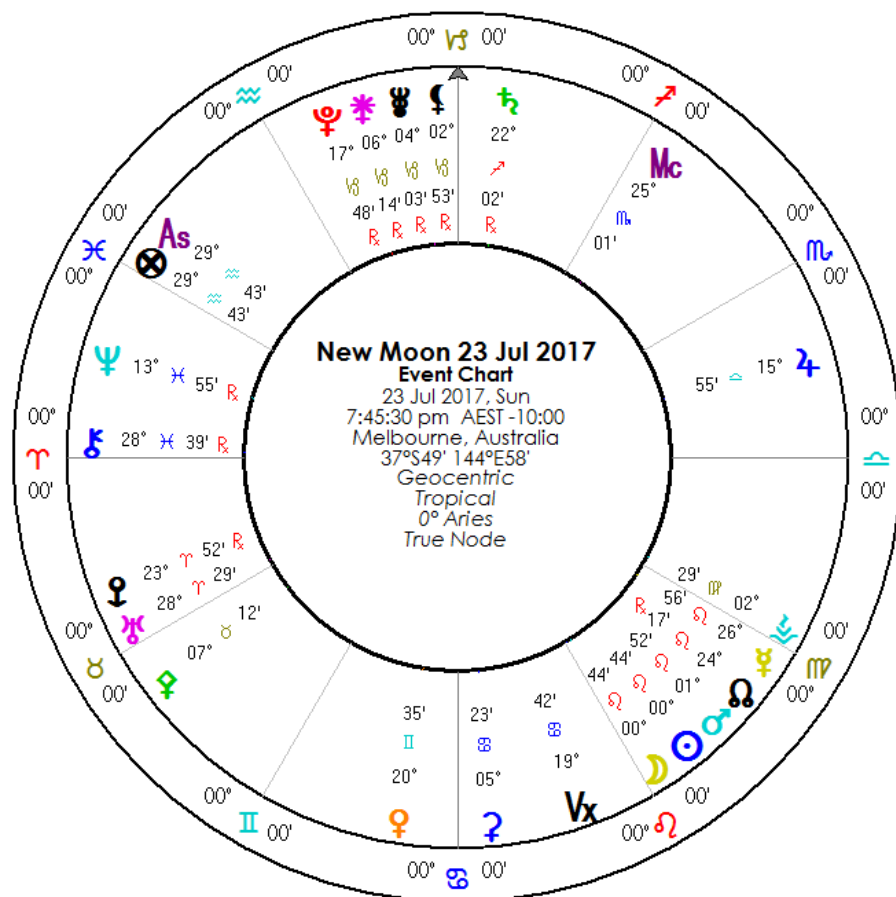

The sign of Cancer is ruled by the Moon, and when in Capricorn and lining up with Pluto, there is an ambitious agenda. It suggests planning, secretiveness and possible manipulation behind the scenes. Above all, security, both financial and emotional is the focus of this Full Moon. This is a good time to get in touch with our deeper feelings and learn from the past. It provides an opportunity to overcome fears we've been carrying from childhood. Events that occur may push our buttons and reveal our soft underbelly.

Discover the beautiful cosmic choreography of Venus and Mars and how it illuminates the deepest patterns of your relationships.

Mars will commence a new synodic cycle just after this New Moon, heralding an important directional change.

It's time to assess the past two years. What have we learned about ourselves? What have been the results of our actions? What have we achieved? Are we ready for a new challenge and what is it?

The Moon, Sun and Mars in Leo bring a much needed confidence boost. Energy levels are high. This is a creative and highly expressive New Moon, but if Leo energy is taken too far, egos can run amok.

Psychologically speaking, excess pride and vanity are often a symptom of deep seated insecurity. Whenever we encounter pushiness or bullying, you can be sure that underneath there is a scared and insecure infant. We might feel sorry for the child who experienced abuse and pain, but as adults we are expected to grow up and behave.

Venus opposes Saturn so the value systems that guide our decisions are under pressure and may need revising. Any inherent flaws, or unprincipled actions will be exposed.

In simple terms, Mars represents quantity, the biggest, the fastest, the strongest, while Venus represents quality; things that are measured against core standards such as our personal preferences, our likes and dislikes. This is a vulnerable time and how we cope with it will tell us how our self esteem is functioning.

For those who bully and seek to exert control over others for their own personal benefit, this Leo New Moon will likely reveal inner childhood wounds that need to be healed.

Otherwise, this is a creative time of new challenges when we will seek to express ourselves in new ways. This is a good time to assess long term goals and make choices about which projects to put our energy into. It's worth remembering that we are never too old to learn new things, or to play.

There are a couple of key transits for DT this month—a prelude to the coming eclipses and the Saturn station that will impact in August.

On 8 July transiting Saturn will oppose his Sun. This transit is well known for its debilitating effects. There is often a sense of tiredness and overwhelming frustration that depletes one's energy. Health implications can result. It's often the case that one simply cannot be bothered to make any effort when Saturn opposes the Sun. Being so close to his nodal axis and Moon, this additional pressure may simply be too much for him and he could just quit, but whatever transpires, he will be forced to face his limitations under Saturn.

On the 11th transiting Mars will join Trump's natal Saturn in Cancer, adding more pressure. Trump's Saturn is very much bound up with his Venus. Venus and Saturn in Cancer is very security conscious, often masking deep-seated insecurity that is replaced by a tendency to focus on money and material matters as a substitute.

Mars hitting this region of his chart will likely draw his attention into deal making in order to make his position more secure. The third main transit this month for DT is Jupiter conjunct his natal Chiron which happens on the 14th. This transit often provides life lessons of one kind or another, but given DT's lim-
