Time Activity Speaker

Session 3
- Academic Global Surgery
  - Moderator: Dr. Richard Henker, University of Pittsburgh & AANA
  - Dr. Carlos Garberglo, Loma Linda University
  - Dr. Neema Kashef, HUG
  - Dr. Jocelyn Logan, University of Cincinnati
  - Dr. Faye Evans, Boston Children's Hospital
  - Dr. Mamta Swaroop, Northwestern University
  - Time: 12:45 - 1:40 pm
  - Description: Collaboration between academic institutions and training programs fosters understanding, creates new opportunities for research and strengthens clinical training in high, middle, and low-income countries. These two panels will showcase a variety of approaches to academic collaboration from institutions and specialties. They will discuss upcoming challenges within institutions and with accreditation, as well as funding and academic careers in global surgical care.

Session 4
- Partnerships for Advocacy and Action
  - Moderator: Mr. Brendan Allen, University of Melbourne & G4 Alliance
  - Dr. Dan Deckelbaum, McGill University
  - Dr. Tigistu Ashengo, Jhpiego
  - Dr. Claire Burgardt, Indiana University & MOI University
  - Dr. Rahul Jindal, Uniformed Services University
  - Dr. Liz Drum, CHOP
  - Time: 1:40 - 1:50 pm
  - Description: Research to Action in Global Surgery
  - This session will focus on taking recommendations and findings emerging from academic research to the next step: action and implementation.

Session 5
- Technology, Innovation and Research in Global Surgery
  - Moderator: Dr. Peter Donkor, KNUST
  - Dr. Tom Weiser, Stanford University & Lifebox
  - Dr. William Magee, III, University of Southern California
  - Dr. Riffat Lattif, New York Medical School
  - Dr. Rob Rivello, Harvard University PGSSC
  - Time: 2:45 - 3:55 pm
  - Description: Technology, Innovation and Research in Global Surgery
  - This panel will highlight a wide spectrum of creativity, including tele-mentoring, geospatial mapping, genomic studies, and new methods in educational design. The speakers will consider how technology can bridge geographic distance and can allow both basic science and clinical collaboration around the world.

Session 6
- Financing Global Surgery
  - Moderator: Dr. Walt Johnson, WHO GIEESC
  - Dr. David Barath, GE Foundation
  - Dr. Pierre Theodore, J&J
  - Dr. Daniel Grossman, Medtronic
  - Dr. Jeremy Veillard, World Bank
  - Time: 4:55 - 5:00 pm
  - Description: Financing Global Surgery
  - A coordinated resource mobilization strategy will be required to support surgical systems strengthening worldwide. Research and innovation for global surgical care is a cost-effective public health approach that will contribute to poverty alleviation, job creation, and greater economic productivity for many LMICs. However, the mechanisms by which surgical care will be financed have yet to be fully defined. This panel will outline potential resource mobilization strategies.
